*"For the Lord is good and his love endures forever. His faithfulness continues through all generations."
Psalm 100:5*

"I lift my eyes up to the mountains- from where does my help come from? My help comes from the Lord, the Maker of heaven and Earth." Psalm 121:1-2

This verse will be a prayer on my lips that hits a little differently from now on. For you see, this was my mom's confirmation verse. While my siblings and I combed through my mom's belongings, we stumbled upon confirmation pictures, pictures that froze a moment in time, where my Grandpa smiled upon my mom while he blessed her and encouraged her eyes to continue focusing upon her Savior.

As I close my eyes now and see my mom, her body failing, her breathing mere gasps, my heart holds one moment frozen: tears streaming down her cheeks as she opened her eyes for the last time, one last full breath escaping before she woke and saw Jesus. Gut wrenching and unexpected as it was and still is, I choose to believe this moment is the exact picture of this very verse: "I lift my eyes... My help comes." Jesus met my mom in a moment that felt helpless here on Earth. He met her and welcomed her into heaven, freeing her of the Earthly troubles.

Going through daily life on Earth has many moments that arise where help is called for. And while each situation holds a differing degree of help needed, when our eyes remain fixed on Jesus, we can rest assured help comes! Hold fast, dear friends, to the promises of Jesus. He has created you for all the moments. He walks beside you through each of those moments, never leaving your side. And when you find yourself in a moment of need, keep your eyes lifted. Call out to your Savior who so desperately loves you and who has come to help, to save you.

Hold Thou Thy cross, before my closing eyes;
Shine through the gloom, and point me to the skies.
Heaven's morning breaks, and earth's vain shadows flee;
In life, in death, Lord, abide with me.

Identity by Eric Mason (Middle/High School Youth)

 Note: The real-life stories in this series contain mature themes.

Who are you? Our world values being unique. So much so, that we end up looking the same as we try to be different. But we aren't a number. We aren't our clothes, our relationships or our accomplishments. In Christ we are much more. In these four thought-provoking youth Bible study sessions, Eric Mason compares the message the world constantly tells teens about their identity with the truths found in Scripture. The world tells us it's all about how you look, what you have, what you do, and whom you are connected to. But Scripture teaches that while those things can be important, they do not constitute who you are. As followers of Jesus Christ, our identity is found in Him. With biblical teaching and real-life stories, this series will help students ground their identity in Christ and live boldly as children of God and heirs of heaven. Identity :: RightNow Media
